ANNUAL REPORT, SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR INSTITUTE, 1995-96

During the June 1, 1995 to May 31, 1996 period, the Institute has undergone changes and improvements in the following areas:

1) Administration:

1a) Principal: Dr. Chantal Maillé has served as interim Principal for the Institute during the past year. Dr. Maillé has been appointed as Principal for the Simone de Beauvoir Institute for a three year period, beginning June 1, 1996 to May 31, 1999.

1b) Support Staff: The Institute has lost one staff position. The position of Assistant to the Principal was eliminated due to budget cuts from the Faculty of Arts & Science.

2) Documentation Centre: The Documentation Centre again obtained the services of a student assistant for two terms. Nathalie Pilon was hired for six hours per week. Please refer to Appendix A.

3) Faculty Personnel: Professor Kaarina Kailo was awarded tenure this year. Dr. Kailo has been promoted to Associate Professor commencing June 1, 1996.

4) Membership: Because of the re-structuring process, the appointments of Institute members were extended until September 31, 1995. After October 1, 1995, new members joined the Institute. Please refer to Appendix B for the list of the Fellows and Research Associates.

5) Student Enrolment and Participation: In 1995-96, including the summer of 1995, the Institute offered 17 courses and 4 tutorials to a total number of 464 students, equalling 1392 student credits. Our courses are 3 credit courses. On the average there were 3 courses of 41 - 50 students and the rest had between 13 - 36 students. The enrolment in the various Women's Studies programmes was as follows: Major: 120, Minor: 32, Certificate: 8, for a total of 160 students.

The following Women's Studies students received recognition for their outstanding academic work:

Jennifer Nelson received the Thérèse F. Casgrain medal. This medal is awarded to the most outstanding graduating student in Women's Studies.

Amy Henderson and Julie Lecouteur received the Provost Entrance Scholarships. This scholarship is for first year students.

Laliv Clenman received the Maïr Verthuy Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to the most outstanding student entering her third year of Women's Studies.

In addition to attending courses and being involved in the intellectual life of the Institute, the students have been actively involved in the Women's Studies Students' Association. Students take a great interest and pride in the activities of the Institute and are concerned about the future of Women's Studies, feminist research and feminist practice. Student representatives participated in the various committees of the Institute.

6) Programmes and Curriculum Development: The Curriculum committee concentrated on the implementation of the second stage of changes to the curriculum. The changes were approved by the Arts & Science Faculty Council in March 1996.

7) Research Seminars: Dr. Barbara Meadowcroft organized the Fellows Research Seminar Series for the fifth consecutive year, arranging the presentations around the theme "Women and Nationalism." See Appendix C

8) Public Events: The Simone de Beauvoir Institute sponsored 18 speaker, author and show events, with an average attendance of 30 people. In addition, the Institute hosted one film and one book launch. In honour of February is Black History Month, the Institute also arranged two speaker presentations. For each event, promotional material was mailed to 200 locations and to 35 paid subscribers. Many of the Institute's events (lectures, book launches) received financial contributions from the following organizations: See Appendix D.

9) Outside Representations: The faculty and fellows of the Institute attended many national and international workshops and conferences. The outside representations enable our professors to meet and network with their counterparts in other universities, to share their expertise and research, and to learn about other Women's Studies programmes. See Appendix E.

10) Service - Internal and External: Members of the Institute have continued to serve on a variety of Institute and Concordia University committees. They have also been involved with a number of outside organizations. See Appendix F.

11) Publications - external: Books, chapters, articles and reviews by members of the Institute have appeared in a variety of international and Canadian publications. See Appendix G.

12) Publications - internal: The most recent issue of the Bulletin was published in June 1995. Vol. 15 (1995) "Women and Environmental Concerns Issues and Histories," edited by guest editor Tina Crossfield, featured articles by Simone de Beauvoir Institute faculty members, Concordia faculty members, and Women's Studies students. For a complete list of the Institute's publications, see Appendix H.

13) Grants: During the 1995-96 academic year, the Principal and the full-time faculty at the Institute obtained grants to facilitate their research.

14) Promotional: The Institute's Faculty, Fellows, and Research Associates continued to provide the local, national, and international oral and print media with resource comments on news events. Faculty, Fellows, and Research Associates spoke in classes and lent their expertise to students' projects. Visits to CEGEPs are part of the promotional activities. Perry Calce, School of Community and Public Affairs, usually represents Concordia five colleges on the College Days promotion tours. Susan Sullivan was able to represent the Institute at one of the events held at Marianopolis. The Institute placed an advertisement for Women's Studies programmes in The Link on April 9, 1996. The Institute's lounge was used by outside community groups on 31 occasions, and for other Concordia groups on 50 occasions.

REPORT ON THE READING ROOM/DOCUMENTATION CENTRE June 1, 1995 - May 31, 1996

by Carol Mitchell

Statistics:

Number of people using the Reading Room: 1144

New patrons registered: 165 (44 of these are Women's Studies students; 105 from other disciplines and 16 from outside Concordia).

Reference questions: 1079

Loans: 901

Reserves requests: 180

Monographs purchased: 48

Monographs added to collection: 65 (processed, catalogued and on shelf): the cost of books has risen noticeably over the past year. The best buys come from sales of publishers' remainders.

Periodical subscriptions renewed and/or begun: 25

The Reading Room continues to exchange publications with 12 Canadian and 28 international organizations (see 1993 - 1994 Annual Report for listing).

Work Study Programme

As we did not receive funds from the Work Study Programme this year, we were able to hire a student for 6 hours per week only. Natalie Pilon filled this position extremely competently for both semesters.

Gifts and Donations

Authors and guest speakers Akhtar Naraghi and Chrystos donated copies of their books. Concordia Professor Shahrzad Mojab donated a copy of her recent article on women and the Gulf War. Robin Gagnon, Brigitte Martel, Lois Marshall and Susan Sullivan were amongst those donating books as well as several anonymous, unsolicited donations. Donations are not encouraged without first consulting the documentalist to see if there is a need for and room for extra holdings. There are several cupboards and shelves in the bathroom filled with donated books.

Visitors

Former students Diane Naugler and Jennifer Nelson, now both doing their Master's in Women's Studies at York University and Simon Fraser respectively, came to say hello. This is particularly gratifying in view of the fact that the Reading Room is located on the fourth floor. Professor Myreille Pawliez, a visiting lecturer from Massey University, New Zealand and Professeure Patricia Mercader from the Centre Lyonnais d'études féministe, Institut de Psychologie - Université Lumière, Lyon, France came to the Reading Room as did Lydia Ruprecht from the Organisation des nations unies pour l'éducation, la science and la culture in Paris. She sent us several documents on her return. Another visitor was Juliette Chateauneuf from Oxfam who was seeking a resource person to go to Amman, Jordan for one month as a paid consultant to help set up a women's resource centre. After her visit, the director of Oxfam phoned to ask if I would accept the position. I declined. Concordia Library Studies professors Anne Galler and Marlene Giguère also visited. McGill MLIS Student Georgia Souter interviewed the documentalist as part of a research project on libraries.

Volunteers

Muriel Ward continues to come in to file the clippings for the vertical files. Her help is invaluable.

Inventory

Inventory is almost complete but the final figures will not be available for some weeks. So far, the number of missing books does not appear too drastic this year.

Miscellaneous

For the first time in three years, I have closed the Reading Room for one hour at lunch in May in order to keep it open for longer hours overall.

The book slot continues to be a boon, the only drawback being that delinquent users sometimes return their books after hours and do not pay their fines.

Security personnel still appear sporadically and do not enter the area often, despite a letter sent to the head of the Security department requesting them to inspect the premises.

Horizontal blinds have been installed on windows in the front room, leaving more wall space for additional shelving.

All in all, this has been a satisfactory year for the Reading Room. Many users have commented that they find the atmosphere here more conducive for studying than that in the main libraries and that they appreciate the personal attention.
